

SOFWERX

Tampa Bay AirFest 2022

26-27 March 2022

SOFWERX participated in the Tampa Bay AirFest 2022 hosted at MacDill Air Force Base in Tampa, Florida. The airshow featured a variety of military and civilian flight performances, including the United States Navy Blue Angels. A variety of aircraft from all branches of the military were on display for attendees to explore and learn about.

Event Outcomes

- Over 16 staff and interns participated at the booth where attendees could learn more about SOFWERX.
- Visitors from the community attending the AirFest interacted with a flight simulator to learn about the different mechanics and aspects of aviation.
- Booth interactions and networking led to ecosystem development and future STEM program interests and opportunities.
